ALYSSA TRUJILLO

ABOUT ME

I am an outgoing individual who likes to travel and try new things. I enjoy learning about cultures around the world and historical events. My first professional choice was to be a high school social studies teacher. But since teaching at the elementary school level, I have fallen for the little learners.

I have been surrounded by educators throughout my life in my family. My mother is a teacher; I have 3 aunts who are teachers, an uncle who is a teacher and my grandfather too. I am thinking that teaching runs in my blood. I am excited to be an official teacher soon.
